After a break last year, DMV's most talented performers return to the stage on Wilson Plaza at Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center

Washington, DC – Live! Concert Series on the Plaza returns at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center (RRB/ITC) as one of DC's longest running free concert series. The series kicks off on Tuesday July 6th with weekday performances through Friday September 3rd, from noon to 1:00pm. Featuring some of the area's most talented entertainers, locals and passersby can enjoy free, daily lunchtime performances and get a taste of the district's native music scene. The series features a variety of musical flavors such as jazz, bluegrass, swing, Latin, reggae, country, R&B, Go-Go and more – ideal for all audiences.

“Play on the Plaza” also returns this year, providing additional entertainment for guests to challenge one another to friendly and competitive games including corn hole and giant connect four while enjoying the daily concerts. On Fridays throughout the concert series take advantage of our weekly farmer's market, Capital Harvest on the Plaza (CHoP) featuring farm-fresh produce, artisanal treats and local eats.

Live! launched in 2000 as part of the RRB/ITC's mission to offer free public programming on Wilson Plaza– helping to create a stronger community feel in Downtown DC and activating the space which serves as a thoroughfare between the National Mall and business district north of Pennsylvania Avenue. With plenty of outdoor seating and lunch options available inside the building's food court, Wilson Plaza is a perfect place for music lovers of all ages to enjoy the diverse sounds of the DMV area. Live! is a program of RRB/ITC and is sponsored by TCMA (A Drew Company).
